

Meet Laura | Chronic condition

This is Laura. Every day, she follows the same routine. She takes one pill in the morning and one pill at night. Every morning and every night. Because Laura has a chronic condition. But her medicine helps keep her healthy and feeling great. And by taking it consistently and as directed, every morning and every night, she has the rest of the day to go and do what she loves, whether she's off to the beach, out on the town, or headed into work. Laura knows just how important it is to take her medicine on time and to a T. After all, she's one of our pharmacists.

If you have questions about taking your medicine correctly, are experiencing side effects, or are interested in potential savings with generics, or a 90-day supply, our pharmacy team can help. We take great care to help you take your medicine as directed so you can go and do what you love. Because Laura takes dancing lessons and her own advice, Laura takes her medicine.
